Google Play - Cooperative play: Cooperative play begins in the late preschool period. The play is organized by group goals. There is at least one leader, and children are definitely in or out of the group. When children move from a self-centered world to an understanding of the importance of social contracts and rules, they begin to play games with rules.

targeted learning experiences. In either case, play should be actively engaged, it should be predominantly child-directed, and it must be fun. 7 PLAY builds the combines two themes, both of which Euripides treated also in other plays. First, the complacent hypocriSY with which men justify cruelty in the name of military or political necessity; second, the tendency of revenge to be more wicked than the crime which provoked it, and thus to forfeit sympathy and the claim of justice. MEDEA HECABE
